

The Future Economic Environment Prospects for the Pilbara

Regional Development Australia (RDA) Pilbara has prepared a supporting document to the Cost of Doing Business in the Pilbara report and released a review of the major economic production drivers impacting on the Pilbara.

The review focuses on the major recent mining resource developments that are underway or in the pipeline, as well as diversification opportunities in industries such as lithium and fertiliser production. The review also summarises what is happening at the ports and local infrastructure, which provide critical support to the major and emerging industries.

This is an exciting time for the Pilbara as it continues to adjust to the impact of the boom at the beginning of this decade, which was followed by the slowdown and stabilisation of costs while at the same time considerable socio-economic infrastructure came on-stream in the main urban centres.

RDA Pilbara has been a strong advocate of economic diversification and supporter of the SME and NGO sectors as key pillars for the sustainable future of the Pilbara. It is the intention of this report to provide useful information to those who seek to invest in the future of the economic engine of Western Australia.
